

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: Senior Bank Compliance and Risk Management Executive Liza Warner Rejoins CrossCheck Compliance

Chicago, IL – July 27, 2015 - CrossCheck Compliance announced today that Liza Warner has rejoined the firm as a managing director to expand the regulatory compliance and internal audit practice nationally.

“We are thrilled to have Liza back with CrossCheck,” said CrossCheck Compliance President and CEO Jim Jorgensen. “With her extensive experience as a senior compliance and internal audit executive for major financial services organizations, Liza brings to our clients well-grounded advice to effectively manage risk and build a sound control environment.”

Ms. Warner returns to CrossCheck Compliance after four years as the chief compliance & operational risk officer for Associated Banc-Corp in Milwaukee, Wisconsin. Associated, with assets of $27 billion, is one of the top 50 U.S. bank holding companies. Previously, she was a key player in the start-up of CrossCheck’s regulatory compliance and internal audit practice, developing and executing these services for financial institutions of all sizes throughout the Midwest.

“I am looking forward to working with the wonderful people and clients at CrossCheck to expand our services across the country,” said Warner.
